

IC2 Holdings, Inc.
Acceptable Use Policy

Customer may use the Network Services and the Network only for its lawful and proper purposes. Transmission of any material (i) which is legally obscene, violates proprietary rights of third parties, impairs the privacy of communications or is otherwise unlawful, or (ii) which causes technical disturbances to the Network, or otherwise violates reasonable regulations of IC2 Holdings, Inc. (IC2NET) or other providers with respect to the Network, is prohibited. It is prohibited to knowingly engage in any activities that will cause a denial of service to any IC2NET customers, end-users, or other connected networks. Upon detecting any activity, which IC2NET at its sole discretion determines to be in violation of this policy, IC2NET may elect to suspend or terminate without notice all or any portion of a service provided by it in the interest of preserving Network integrity.

Unsolicited Communications

It is contrary to the Acceptable Use Policy of IC2NET for a direct customer, or for an Internet Service Provider customer, to permit any third party to use any IC2NET service, directly or indirectly, for the purpose of unsolicited mass transmissions or multiple or inappropriate postings in a manner which, in IC2NET's sole judgment and discretion, is abusive, offensive, inappropriate or unacceptable. Without limitation, any of the following activities constitute a prohibited use of IC2NET's services:

- 1) Posting or transmitting one or more articles, advertisements or other materials (i) to 10 or more unrelated Usenet newsgroups, forums (including Internet Relay Chat), electronic mail lists or other similar groups or lists (collectively, Sites), or (ii) to any one or more Sites if the materials are off-topic according to the charter or other owned published description of the Site.
- 2) Sending any unsolicited electronic mail message (i) to 25 or more electronic mail users, or (ii) to multiple electronic mail users in a manner which generates one or more complaints from such users.
- 3) Obtaining or attempting to obtain unauthorized access to any account or computer resource not belonging to customer.
- 4) To engage in any of the aforementioned activities using the service of another Internet Service Provider, but relaying such activities through an IC2NET computer account, or using an IC2NET computer account as a mail drop for responses.

Upon detecting any activity which IC2NET determines to be in violation of this Unsolicited Communications policy, IC2NET may elect to take any one or more of the following steps:

- (i) Provide its direct customer with twenty-four (24) hours notice of an activity, during which period the direct customer must explain, cease, remedy or correct the activity, whether the activity is being conducted by itself, its employees, its customers or other third parties, to IC2NET's satisfaction in its sole discretion;
- (ii) Implement technical mechanisms where available to block or prevent multiple transmissions or postings using a IC2NET service;
- (iii) Suspend or terminate without additional notice relative to initial twenty-four hour notice as stated above all or any portion of a service provided by it;
- (iv) Recover any and all costs incurred by IC2NET in identifying, correcting or terminating prohibited activities under this Policy including the levying of cancellation or termination fees;
- (v) Pursue any and all other remedies which may be available to IC2NET under law, equity, contract or tariff (or under the customary practices and procedures of the Internet community); or
- (vi) Take any and all other actions which IC2NET determines to be necessary or appropriate in connection with such prohibited activities.
